

Nicolò Balducci

Born in 1999, Italian countertenor Nicolò Balducci is quickly establishing himself on the international concert and opera stages, garnering praise for 'singing with a sense of enjoyment and freedom' (Opera Wire, USA) and his 'crystalline timbre... the athleticism of his coloratura is enviable' (Gramophone Magazine). He is winner of the 1st Prize and Young Artist Prize at the 2022 Renata Tebaldi Competition, 3rd Prize and Young Artist Award at the 2022 Cesti Competition Innsbruck and 1st Prize at the 2021 Concorso Niccolò Piccinni.

Highlights in 2023/24 include role debuts as Gilbert/Roméo et Juliette by Zingarelli and Imeneo/Gloria e Imeneo by Vivaldi, Nerone in a concert version of Monteverdi's L'incoronazione di Poppea and concerts of Handel's Messiah, all at Château de Versailles. Furthermore, he will sing the role of Morte Eterna in Draghi's oratorio Il Dono della Vita eterna at Festival d'Ambronay, conducted by Leonardo García Alarcón, Arzane in Vivaldi's Arsilda with La Cetra and Andrea Marcon in concert in Basel, give his role and house debut at Landestheater Salzburg as Lucio Cinna in Mozart's Lucio Silla, his house debuts as Nerone at Oper Köln and at Opéra de Toulon in Ted Huffman's celebrated production of L'incoronazione di Poppea and appear in Ristori's Pigmalione at Teatro Sociale di Rovigo.

Last season, Nicolò Balducci gave role and house debuts as Nerone/L'incoronazione di Poppea at the Palau de les Arts in Valencia, conducted by Leonardo Garcia Alarcón, and at the Innsbrucker Festwochen as Osmينو/La fida ninfa by Vivaldi, sang Cherubino/Le nozze di Figaro at the Teatro Comunale di Ferrara and a series of concerts throughout Sweden, together with Dan Laurin and Anna Paradiso, including the Stockholm Early Music Festival.

In 2021, whilst still studying, he made his operatic debut at Teatro Olimpico in Vicenza, singing Oberto/Alcina, conducted by Andrea Marcon and broadcast on TV Rai 5. In 2022, he performed Cavalli's Xerse at the prestigious Festival della Valle d'Itria under the baton of Federico Maria Sardelli and directed by Leo Muscato, and the solo part in Arvo Pärt's Stabat Mater on tour throughout Europe with La Filarmonica Arturo Toscanini. The same year, he started his collaboration with recorder virtuoso Dan Laurin and harpsichordist Anna Paradiso (Dolci Affetti Ensemble) and the Baroque Academy Gothenburg Symphony. He is also proud to be featured on the soundtrack to Marco Bellocchio's new film 'Rapito' (composer: Fabio Massimo Capogrosso), which was nominated for the Cannes Film Festival 2023.

Nicolò Balducci is an exclusive artist with Swedish record label BIS Records. His first solo CD, "Castrapolis – Neapolitan Cantatas and Arias", was released in 2022, followed by the album "Amore Dolore – Countertenor Arias" in March 2023. A third CD with Songs by Mozart, Haydn and Beethoven will be released in 2024.

Nicolò Balducci holds a bachelor's degree from the Conservatory of Matera and a Master's degree with honours in baroque singing from the Conservatory of Vicenza, where he studied with Professor Gemma Bertagnolli.
